Captain James Makes a branch of the Equalyptus in blossom and in seed, which shows that there will soon be an abundance of these seeds from native grown trees. These who have the trees in seed will do well to save the seeds, which can casily be done by gathering the scorns before they are fully ripe. The Eucalyptus grows so rapidly that we hope soon to see groves and even forests of it cultivated for the timber, than which no product can be raised with so little care, or will yield so sure a return to the cultivator.

THE FIRE AT KOHALA .- In another column will be found an account of this disaster from a correspondent, who gives many particulars of interest. It is one of those accidents which are ant to dishearten the most energetic men. We trust Mr. Hinds will not give up, but with his agent's assistance will be able to go right to work and replace the mill as soon as possible. The cane, of which there are one hundred and fifty acres grow ing, will be ready to cut in December, and with the PER SYREN, &c. utmost activity and assistance a new mill can bare ly be got ready in time to take it off. Still " where there's a will, there's a way" and we hope to see the owner triumph over all his misfortunes, and secure the cipening crops.
